

Know the foe...

Weber State University

Did you know that.....

- J. Willard Marriott, founder of Marriott International, is an alum of both Weber State and the University of Utah.
- Watarau 'Wat' Misaka played basketball at Weber State (then Weber College, 1941-1943) and the University of Utah (1943-44, 1946-47), helping the University of Utah win the national championship in 1944 and the NIT title in 1947. After serving the country in World War II and finishing his time at Utah, Misaka became the first non-white player in the NBA (then BAA).
- The two universities have a cooperating partnership for both Navy and Air Force ROTC.
- Athletic teams at Weber were referred to as the "Weberites" prior to the current Wildcat name.
